THE HOMAGE OF JUSTICE.

Wehave compiled, from various sources, the ollowing disinterested testimonials, which were commanded from their several authors by the lof. ty patriotism, valor talents and success of Gen. | Commodore Perry Harrison, long before he was named for the Pre. gust 18, 1817, says: sidency, and in times which ought to give them weight sufficient to bear down all the petty calumnies and quibbling objections which party malignity may now presume to forge against the warworn and time-honored patriot and soldier.

The authorities we present against the puny attacks of Loco-Foco Federalism, and which we shall storeotype as an impregnable barricade against all opposition, are no less than the Con-OF INDIANA, and of KENTUCKY, JAMES MADIor Indiana, and of Kentucky, James Madi- secured to a Roman General in the best days of the incessage of the President of the United States, son, James Monroe, Col. Col. Johnson said, (in Congress)-"Who is Gen. Harrison! The son of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who spent the greater part of his large fortune in redeeming the pledge he 'then gave, of his 'fortune, life and sacred honor,' to secure the liberties of his coun-of the career of Gen. Harrison I need not speak—the history of the West, is his history. For forty years he has been identified with its interests, its perils and its hopes. Universally beloved in the walks of peace, and distinguished by his ability in the councils of his country, he has been yet more illustriously distinguished in the "During the late war, he was longer in active service than any other General officer, he was perhaps, oftener in action than any one of them, and never sustained a defeat."

James Madroon, in a special message to Con gress, Dec. 18, 18'1, said,

While it is deepl alamented that so many valu-able lives have been lost in the action which took place on the 7th ultimo, Congress will see with satisfaction the dauntless spirit of fortitude victoriously displayed by every description of troops en guged, as well as the collected firmness which distin-guished their commander on an occasion requiring the utmost exertions of valour and discipline.

JAMES MADISON in his message to Congress. Nov. 1812, said, An ample force from the States of Kentucky Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, is placed, with the addition of a few regulars under the command of Brigadier Gen. HARRISON, possesses the entire confidence of his fellow soldiers, among whom are citizens, some of them volunteers in the ranks, not less distinguished by their political stations than by their, personal merits.

In Mr. Madison's message of Dec. 1813, the compliment was extended, as follows: The success on Lake Erie having opened a passage on the territory of the enemy, the officer commanding the Northwestern arms, transferred the war thither, and, rapidly pursuing the hostile troops, fleeing with their savage associate, forced ance of the power vested in me by the constitution, a general action, which quickly terminated in the capture of the British, and dispersion of the savage

This result is signally honorable to Major GES ERAL HARRISON, by whose military talents it was prepared.
The following tribute of praise was paid to General Harrison, in 1811, by eleven of the officers who fought under his banner at the batttle of Tip-"Should our country again require our services to oppose a civilized or a savage for, we should march under Gen. Harrison with the most perfect confidence of victory and fame."

The following resolve of both houses of the Legislature of Kentucky, will have a similar effect on the nerves of those who circulate the slander respecting the "white horse," and the fall of the gallant Col. Daviess:

Legislature of Kentucky, Jan. 7, 1812.
Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Kentucky, that in the late campaign against the Indians upon the Wabash, Gov. William Henry Harrison has behaved like a hero, a patriot, and a general; and that for his cool, deliberate, skilful and gallant conduct in the battle of Tipecanoe, he well deserves the warmest thanks of his country and his nation.

Gen. Anthony Wayne, in his Letter to the Sec retary of War, giving an official account of his sanguinary Indian Battle, in 1792, said: "My faithful and gallant Lieutenant Harrison.

rendered the most essential service, by communicating my orders in every direction, and by his conduct and bravery, exciting the troops to press for River Ohio. The following resolution, which passed both houses of Congress, with but one dissenting voice is calculated to make the "petticont heros," feel-if such slanderers can feel any thing but the lash. Resolved by the Senate and House of Representative of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the thanks of Congress be, they are hereby, presnted to Major General William Henry Harrison, and Isaac Shelby, late Governor of Kentucky, and, through them to the officers and men under their command, for their gullantry and men under their command, for their guinality and good conduct in defeating the combined British and Indian forces under Major General Proctor, on the Italy of the Northwestern the Thames, in Upper Canada, on the fifth day of Territory, to be Governor of the Indiana Territory. The following message was received from the President of the United States, by Mr. John Ad-October, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen, capturing the British army, with their baggage, camp eqipage, and artillery; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause two gold medals to be struck, emblematical of this triamph; and presented to General Harrison and Isaac Shelby, late Governor of Kentucky.

JAMES MONROE Gov. Shelby to Mr. Madison, May 18, 1814, says .. I feel no hesitation to declare to you that I believe Gen. Harrison to be one of the first military characers I ever knew."

Col. Richard M. Johnson to Gen. Harrison, July

4, 1813, says :
"We did not want to serve under cowards or traitors ; but under one [ Harrison ] who had proved himself to be wise, prudent and brave." Commodore Perry to General Harrison, Au-

Sentiments of the Hero of Fort Stephenson Col. Croghan, now of the War Department: "I desire no plaudits which are bestowed upor me at the expense of Gen. Harrison.

"I have felt the warmest attachment for him as a man, and my confidence in him as an able commander remains unshaken. I feel every assurance that he will at all times do me ample justice; and nothing could give me more pain than to see his enemies seize upon this occasion to deal out their unfriendly feelings and acrimonious dislike; and as long as he continues, (as in my humble opinion he has hitherto done,) to make the wisest arrangements and the most judicious disposition, which the forces under his command will justify, I shall not hesitate on no occasion been withheld."

Lastly we come to the neat compliment of Thomas Richie, Editor of the Richmond Enquirer, the leading organ of the Coalition in the South, who now brandishes his old "chapeless sword with two broken points," and threatens devestating war upon the conquorer of the Brit tish and Indian Coolition of the West! The Richmond Enquirer said:

"General Harrison's letter tells us every thing that we wish to know about the officers, except him-self. He does justice to every one but H -ison- sent to the appointments of B. Livingston, M. who was too modest to be just to himse
